Econ X 430.34 Professional Ethics , Audit Planning and Risk Assessment****

Instructor: Debra L. Warnacutt, CPA

This is a full immersion course in which students learn how to plan and perform an audit. Facsimile client records are used to help students discover the information that may be gleaned from each document, identify and assess the risks of material misstatement, and perform audit procedures designed to reduce the risks to an acceptable level. The sufficiency and appropriateness of audit evidence is evaluated through application of professional standards and classroom debate. The importance of exercising professional skepticism and developing professional judgment is addressed, particularly with regard to understanding materiality and the techniques of sample selection.
